A Day On, Not a Day Off

"Without love, there is no reason to know anyone, for love will in the end connect us to our neighbors, our children and our hearts." ~ Martin Luther King, Jr.

Connect with your neighbors this Martin Luther King, Jr. Day by sharing a couple of hours in service with Crowley House of Hope. Volunteers will take part in a several special projects in our Thrift Store and assist in our Food Assistance program. This is an ideal opportunity for groups and families to get in the spirit of MLK Day and make a difference in our community.

Are you experiencing the post-holiday slump? It's a common occurrence in the days and weeks beyond the holiday season. Over the past several weeks, we've been busy giving gifts and making this time of year special for our friends and family. The warmth we experience is beyond measure as that special person opens a gift carefully selected just for them, or a once-a-year baked goodie is shared. We often wonder how we can keep this going, staying connected to that feeling of joy and generosity.

Volunteering is one way to link the holiday spirit to our deeper motivations of connection, purpose, and renewal - we can extend our holiday values into actions that enrich our lives and those of others throughout the year. Giving your time is like gift-giving - you carefully consider your talents, connect with an organization whose mission aligns with your interests, and then purposefully share that all-important gift of time. We invite you to consider sharing this time with the community seeking the services of Crowley House of Hope.

Your volunteer journey with Crowley House of Hope begins by scheduling a short New Volunteer Tour. This tour will allow you to see our facilities, learn more about our programs, and discover how your gift of time can make a difference.

To make this easy, follow these steps:

1. Pick a tour that suits your schedule.
2. Meet our team and get to know the excellent work being done.
3. Choose the role that best matches your interests and skills.

To schedule your New Volunteer Tour, contact Elizabeth Becker at 817-297-6400 or elizabeth@crowleyhoh.org. Keep the feeling of good tidings going for yourself and those we serve by becoming a volunteer today!
